

Automate your Business.

Comprehensive Solutions.

Digitype has a unique correspondence solution called DType which is not available anywhere else in New Zealand.

Designed by Digitype it is a comprehensive package of customised macros and templates designed to reduce the time it takes to create a simple letter by up to 80%.

How it works:

- 1 Macros are used to automate tasks, such as inserting a client's address into a document. Templates contain standard formatting preferences and styles.
- 2 Digitype's DType solution combines customised templates, common addresses and detailed macros together in one easy to use package.
- 3 In this way, details that always apply, like address details, styles and formatting, are automatically included in every document.

 Tailored to your needs. We design and supply customised templates for creating letters, faxes, invoices and standard Court documents. We also design letterhead, precedents and automated documents/macros.

 Guarantee fewer errors. Using templates and automated document techniques can ensure increased accuracy and efficiency, and create an impression of reliability and professionalism.

 Simply faster correspondence. Instead of spending hours working through the details of what ultimately is a simple document, spend just minutes creating perfectly formatted short letters and facsimiles yourself.

 Cost Effective. You do not need to purchase any additional software or equipment, it is a one-stop solution available for all Word users.
